As Wright State University officials prepare this week to lay out proposed budget and staff cuts to address a growing budget deficit, the I-Team acquired a copy of the university’s payroll for calendar year 2016 using Ohio public records laws.

Search the database of 1,537 workers who made more than $50,000 last year [HERE].

These records show the number of WSU employees paid more than $200,000 grew from 61 in 2015 to 73 in 2016.

RELATED: Wright State budget cuts, layoffs to be proposed at April 7 meeting

Wright State University’s board of trustees is expected to consider budget cuts at its April 7 meeting.

Photo: Staff Writer

The public-university’s highest paid employee last year was David Hopkins, who recently stepped down early from his post as president. Hopkins brought in $563,266 in 2016. This is down from previous years, when he was paid more than $800,000 — his total compensation in 2014 was more than $1 million.
The university also gave a pay cut to Marjorie Bowman, who was WSU’s second highest paid employee in 2015, bringing in more than $500,000 even after she stepped down as head of the medical school. Her pay was $283,124 in 2016.

I-TEAM: WSU med school dean steps down, keeps $500K salary

Among those who got pay hikes were Thomas Sudkamp, whose promotion from vice president of curriculum to provost came with a $35,060 pay bump.

The 10 highest-paid Wright State employees in 2016 were:

1. David Hopkins, president: $563,266
2. Margaret Dunn, dean of surgery $499,297
3. Glen Solomon, professor/chair of medicine $413,894
4. Mary McCarthy, professor of surgery $412,502
5. Timothy Broderick, Wright State Research Institute chief scientist: 412,499
6. Scott Nagy, head men’s basketball coach: $374,772
7. Amit Sheth, professor of computer science $351,706
8. Thomas Sudkamp, provost: $344,694
9. Akpofure Ekeh, professor of surgery: $343,516
10. Robert Sweeney, professor and vice president of planning: $322,209

Go HERE for a searchable database of all WSU employees compensated more than $50,000 in 2014, 2015 and 2016 — as well as in numerous other local and state public agencies.

ABOUT THE PAYROLL PROJECT

Using Ohio public records laws or other available resources, the I-Team has acquired payroll data for area counties, cities, townships and public colleges and universities. Our database currently contains 490,758 salaries from 2014-17.
SEARCH THE DATABASE

MORE I-TEAM WSU COVERAGE:

Read WSU president’s testimony shedding light on federal probe

WSU sponsored visa for worker at trustee’s firm

SPECIAL REPORT: Lost Jobs; Importing foreign workers

Visa fraud rarely prosecuted

Wright State ‘poster child’ for abuses of worker visa program